Fundamental Baptist Singles' Fellowship

A Fellowship for You!

In I Corinthians 7:8, the Apostle Paul writes that it is good that some Christians remain single. Do we really view the single life a something good? Many look down upon the singles in our churches as those who have failed at courtship, or as some strange phenomenon to be pitied. Many singles view themselves as incomplete or missing out on something. Oh how we need to get back to the Bible!

As Christians, our lives and thoughts ought to be shaped after the Word of God. Scripture gives great encouragement to singles. You are not single because of failure, but out of the will of God. God has promised not to withhold any good gift. Singleness itself is a gift, not merely a consolation prize that must be endured. As a single person, you have the tremendous opportunity to give an undivided devotion to the Lord. God has allowed you this time to passionately pursue a relationship with Him and to refine your spiritual gifts for more effective service. The purpose of the single life is not to find a spouse, but to serve the Lord.

This conference is designed to encourage you through the comfort of God's Word and inspire you to active service in your local church.

Guest Speaker:

Evangelist Ben Everson

BIBLE REVIVAL MINISTRIES

The church's greatest need may be that which we think we need the least.

Brother Ben's preaching style is best described as "genuine, real, and to-the-point, communicating with enthusiasm and heart." In the words of one man, "He puts the cookies on the bottom shelf so we all can reach them."

Ben and his wife Amanda sing, and Ben also plays the piano and several other instruments. The Eversons regularly produce conservative but fresh music recordings through Bible Revival Ministries on a regular basis, and Ben has sung on several Ron "Patch the Pirate" Hamilton/Majesty Music recordings. Ben preaches in local churches, Bible colleges, Christian schools, Christian camps, and other various formats. He has also appeared occa-
